“The Lord will bless his people with peace.”

Merry last Sunday of Christmas! The Christmas Season ends with this Sunday and start the short Ordinary Time season the following day. Before we know it, it will be the Lenten and Easter seasons once again. Even though we are entering “Ordinary” Time, it doesn't mean our ministry activities will slow down. In fact, it will be a very busy month. We start up our Sunday Student Mass and Dinner this weekend and our students go back to school on Monday. The Student Council has been planning this new semester before the break and they have lots of activities lined up already. Later this month, we have two events that I would like to invite you to participate in. On Friday, January 24, we will once again host the annual Ecumenical Taize Prayer Service in observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity at 7pm. The theme given to us by the USCCB is “They Showed Us Unusual Kindness” (cf. Acts. 28.2). In a world torn but strife driven by the lures of the world, Christians more than ever must walk and work together for peace in the world. This prayer service is a tangible sign of unity and I hope that we will fill this place as we call upon the Spirit to renew the face of the earth. The other event is our annual Newman Center 5K Fun Run. As a community, we can come together for fun, food, and fellowship. With our unknown future, this may be our last one. Whether it is participation by attending or sponsoring, let's make this year's event a joy-filled one. I thank our organizers of both events and pray that they will be successful.

Have a blessed week,

Fr. Alfred Omar

Stewardship Moment

Saint Matthew's story of the baptism of Jesus is an appropriate scripture reading to reflect on our own baptism. Jesus' baptism has been understood as a symbol of his death. Baptism is the sacrament by which we die to an old life of sin and enter a new life of grace. We "put on Christ." To be a good steward of one's baptism means to accept that one has new life in the risen Lord and is willing to be guided by the life of Jesus. As this year begins to unfold, reflect on the meaning of your own baptism, and how you might make an even deeper commitment to a new life in Christ Jesus.

Sunday Connection from Loyola Press

The baptism of Jesus is attested to in the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke. The account that appears in Matthew is the only one to include the dialogue between Jesus and John, however. Another difference in Matthew's presentation of this event is the announcement made by the voice from heaven, which says, "This is my beloved son . . ." In Mark and Luke, this voice addresses itself to Jesus: "You are my beloved son . . ."

The baptisms that John performs prefigure Christian Baptism. John baptizes for repentance from sin. In accepting this baptism, Jesus unites himself with all sinners even though he is sinless. In Matthew's Gospel, John the Baptist distinguishes his practice of baptism from the Baptism that the Messiah brings: "I am baptizing you with water . . . He will baptize you with the holy Spirit and fire" (Matthew 3:11).

The baptism of Jesus is another manifestation of Christ, another epiphany. Christ's baptism inaugurates his mission. In an analogous way, our Baptism inaugurates our mission as Christians.

This Sunday marks a transition from the Christmas season to Ordinary Time. In a way, today's feast is the high point of the Christmas season. Before Jesus' birth, angels announced to Mary and to Joseph who Jesus would be. At his birth, the shepherds and the Magi recognize Jesus as the Messiah. At his baptism, Jesus accepts that he is God's son and inaugurates that mission.

Newman Center Motto

The motto of the Newman Center, cor ad cor loquitur, comes from Saint John Henry Cardinal Newman, for whom Catholic campus ministries at public universities in the USA are named. It is Latin for “heart speaks to heart”.

“To be religious is to have the habit of prayer, or to pray always. This is what Scripture means by doing all things to God's glory; that is, so placing God's presence and will before us, and so consistently acting with a reference to Him, that all we do becomes one body and course of obedience, witnessing without ceasing to Him who made us.”

-St. John Henry Newman
