From the Desk of the Pastor

"I serve you in the midst of the people whom you have chosen, a people so vast that it cannot be numbered or counted. Give your servant, therefore, an understanding heart to judge your people and to distinguish right from wrong." 1 Kings 3.8-9a

Jesus tells us today about two people who found treasure. Not just any treasure like pearls or even the pearl of great price, but the treasure of the Kingdom of God. Because of the great value of the kingdom, they sold everything they had with joy and excitement to obtain that treasure. Certainly, Heaven is the greatest that we could ever desire and have.

But there is a subtle message in the gospel that we must not miss. Notice the persons who discovered the treasure and the pearl made it their highest priority. Nothing else was more important. Our search for the Kingdom of God has to be our highest priority. Everything that we have or might get will give us some satisfaction and happiness, but those things are temporary. Entering into the Kingdom of Heaven, which Jesus has revealed to us, is happiness and fulfillment forever. What could be more important than that?

The questions left for us to reflect on this week are: Where is your heart and what do you truly desire? We are to be like King Solomon in the First reading asking for wisdom and an understanding heart. May we humble ourselves before God and allow him to work through us to expand the Kingdom of Heaven. Let our prayer be for an understanding heart, one that desires only to do His will.

Have a blessed week,
Fr. Alfred Omar

Stewardship of Time and Talent

We welcome everyone wanting to give to the Lord their time and talent through the various ministries in the parish. Please contact the office or any pastoral team member.

Stewardship Moment

A profound stewardship prayer is offered by the young King Solomon in today's first reading. He asks the Lord to give him an understanding heart, compassion towards God's people and the insight to distinguish right from wrong. An understanding heart, or wisdom, is a gift from God. It is a gift that enables us to make good decisions and prudent choices. Cultivating and sharing this gift is essential, especially when poor decisions and lack of compassion have consequences that affect the lives of others. During these disquieting times, are we asking God for an understanding heart? Are we exercising good stewardship over the gift of wisdom? Are we sharing our compassionate hearts with others?

Stewardship is...

Love in Action

Sunday Connection from Loyola Press

Today's Gospel concludes three weeks of readings from the 13th Chapter of Matthew's Gospel.

Throughout these three weeks we have heard Jesus teaching crowds about the kingdom of heaven, and we have heard Jesus interpret some of his teachings for the disciples. In this week's Gospel, Jesus offers three more short parables.

The first two parables describe the great value of the kingdom of heaven. In the first parable, Jesus says that the kingdom of heaven is like a buried treasure that is worth possessing even if it means giving up everything else. In the second parable, Jesus proposes that the kingdom of heaven is like a pearl of great worth for which one will sell everything else to possess. These parables teach us that we are to place everything we value in the service of the pursuit of the Kingdom of God.

The third parable that Jesus proposes in today's Gospel is different from the first two, but it is reminiscent of the parable of the sower heard in last week's Gospel. The kingdom of heaven is compared to fishing with a wide net. After the fish have been collected, the good fish are kept and the bad fish are thrown away; so too, in the final judgment, will the wicked and the righteous be separated.

Today's Gospel concludes with a curious statement about the scribe who understands the kingdom of heaven. Here a metaphor is offered: this scribe is like the head of a household who "brings from his storeroom both the new and the old." The scribes referred to here are experts of Mosaic law. It is possible that Jesus is here instructing the early Christian community on how to proceed in the interpretation of Jewish law with respect to Jesus' "new" teaching. Jesus' teaching about the kingdom of heaven does not replace the Jewish tradition; it interprets it in a different light..

“Matthew 13:44-46”
Daily Reflection by Fr. Luis A. Zazano

Fr. Luis A. Zazano says that we have life options:

- 1) Treasure in a Field: Life implies searching. The happiness you are searching for can be found, in part, in this world, but you must be serious in looking for it. You can't expect it to just fall on your lap. Search for it. Look around for the things that make you happy, give you peace and make you feel good. Hold onto those and share them with others. When you find it, you will have also found God.
- 2) Full of Joy: Having Jesus and knowing where your happiness is will fill you with joy and passion. Joy is the union of inner peace that comes with finding that which makes us happy. A heart full of peace remains cheerful. Joy and peace are signs that you are on the right track.
- 3) Negotiator: In life we need to know and understand that not all things are created equal. While we are journeying to our goal, we need to know and understand that some things are worth much more than others. Some things will have to be set aside or looked into deeper while you continue to the goal. Learn how to assign value to the things that take you closer to God.

God never leaves you; and let me tell you that when you get to really know him you won't ever leave Him.

God bless you and be with you, in the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen...and do not forget: Heaven is Our Goal!
